About Kelley McKeating

Kelley was born and raised in Quebec. She is a graduate of the University of Waterloo (Honours BMath, Actuarial Science major), and became an actuary in 1995.

She spent most of her early career specializing in pensions and employee benefits. In 2005, she changed direction and began to focus on expert evidence and litigation support.

Kelley has prepared more than 4,000 expert reports to date and has testified as an expert in Ontario, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, and Newfoundland & Labrador.

From 2011 to 2015, she was Chair of the Committee on Actuarial Evidence of the Canadian Institute of Actuaries. From 2020 to 2022, she chaired the Designated Group that was responsible for reviewing and recommending changes to the Canadian Institute of Actuaries' Standards of Practice for Actuarial Evidence. In 2020 and 2021, Kelley served as the only independent actuary on a Technical Advisory Committee for Family Law Pension Matters for FSRA (the regulator of Ontario-registered pension plans).

For family law lawyers, she provides marriage breakdown pension valuations, critiques of family law valuation reports prepared by plan administrators or other actuaries, income tax adjustment reports, lump-sum support determinations, and "Boston" calculations. She also assists clients in the drafting of the pension-related sections of separation agreements.
